Astronomical telescope built by HHSS students

Following the Spring Fashion show held at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School on Wednesday June 5 most of the crowd went up the hill behind the school to view the Astronomical Telescope and Observatory which was built by the students of H.H.S.S.

The new project was two years in the making and it all came from an idea when the school was looking for a prestige course. The school students got the idea from a course which was sponsored by Prince Phillip in England.

The students who were on the course to build this new project made a trip to the University of Toronto to get ideas on telescopes and how to build them.

They received approval from the Ministry of Education and went ahead and after two years of hard work had their dream realized.

At the official opening Mr. Robert Herlihey who directed the project and drew up the plans for it explained to the people on hand what it was all about and Mr. Bill Johnston who supervised the operation introduced the students who had worked on it.

We wish to congratulate Mr. Bill Johnston, Mr. Robert Herlihey, the students and all those who helped to build the project. Great credit is due them for taking the initiative to construct it.

Tourist booth is issue at C of C meeting

The operation of the information booth at Minden was the big issue when the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce held their General Meeting at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School on Monday evening.

For some time now it has been the feeling of many members of the Chamber that the local C of C should get out of the information booth business. It was felt that since Haliburton, Dorset and Cardiff operate their own booths that the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden should operate the booth at Minden. The Chamber approached the Minden council on the matter, but when the Minden council presented the agreement to County Council it was turned down for at least this year. This meant that it was the Chamber's ball once again.

The question of The Information Centre at Minden and what to do about it this summer was brought before the membership at this General Meeting and when a vote was taken it carried by a good margin by the 50 people in attendance that the C of C would operate it at least for this season.

Before the vote was taken quite a discussion took place on the matter. Many members of the county council were present at the meeting and when the matter came up that the Chamber might be in the position to receive a $5,000.00 grant from the Ministry of Industry and Tourism Sinc Nesbitt, Reeve of the Township of Stanhope got to his feet and reminded all present that under the agreement made when the County Council gave the Chamber a $12,000.00 grant, it means that if the Chamber received any government grant that the amount received would have to be returned to the County Council.

The pros and cons of operating this information centre went back and forward but it seemed to be the general opinion that it would be bad to have it close this summer and due to the fact that no other organization seemed to want to take it over that the Chamber should at least try to raise the necessary funds to operate for this summer until something can be done about it.

Barbara Dawson of Haliburton brought up a good question when she suggested that the Secretary-Manager Larry Perrott should not be wasting his time handing out literature all summer in the booth but should have more time to get out and around doing public relations work and signing up more members.

Another lengthy discussion arose when the vote on the resolution of January 9 re a 40 per cent surcharge to all members was about to be taken. The motion carried and a 40 per cent surcharge on each membership will come into effect for this year only.

Mervyn Robertson who for the past few years has been in charge of the sale of the Haliburton Highlands Tartan told the meeting that Tartan sales have been dropping down for the past three years and that he was open for new ideas re the sale of the Tartan.

In giving the president's report Ted Gardiner gave a rundown on the past year stating that much had been accomplished, but that he had been disappointed on some matters that the Chamber had been working on. He touched on the activities that led up to the withdrawal of the annual $7500.00 Ontario Government grant and other matters.

Dawson, Gray & Co of Haliburton were appointed as auditors once again for the coming year.

Historical plaque will be unveiled at Paul's

On Sunday, June 16, 1974, at 1:30 p.m., an historical plaque marking St. Paul's Church will be unveiled in front of that structure on North Water Street in Minden. This plaque is one of a series being erected throughout the province by the Historical and Museums Branch of the Ministry of Colleges and Universities, acting on the advice of the Archaeological and Historic Sites Board of Ontario.

Sunday's ceremony is being arranged and sponsored by St. Paul's Anglican Church and the Reverend Andrew S. Hutchison, L. Th., will act as programme chairman.

Among those who have been invited to participate are: Mr. Glen R. Hodgson, M.P.P. (Victoria-Haliburton); Mr. William C. Scott, M.P. (Victoria-Haliburton); Mr. Murray Fearrey, Warden, Provisional County of Haliburton; Mr. Reg Booth, Reeve, Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden; The Hon. Brian Cathcart, former Minister of Travel and Publicity; Professor William Ormsby, Department of History, Brock University, who will represent Ontario's Historic Sites Board; and, Mr. Norman Maidens, President, Minden Historical Society.

The plaque will be unveiled and dedicated by the Most Reverend Edward Scott, Primate of the Anglican Church of Canada.

The inscription on the plaque reads:

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

In 1865, in response to a proposal of the Canadian Land and Emigration Company, the Church of England in Canada established in Minden Mission. The Company, which had purchased ten townships in the district, agreed to assist in supporting a missionary and that same year the Reverend Frederick Burt was appointed. A native of England, Burt had earlier served as missionary in Montreal and in Huntingdon, Quebec. At the village of Minden, which soon became the centre of his mission, Burt first conducted services in a schoolhouse, but about 1868 construction was begun on this simple frame church. It was designed in the Gothic style and remained largely unaltered until 1947 when the tower and parish hall were added.

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

The village of Minden is the oldest community in Haliburton. From the early 1850's it was the centre for lumbering in the district, and when, in 1859, the region was opened for settlement, Minden developed quickly into a thriving community.

Among the early settlers in Minden and the adjacent townships was a large number of Anglicans. For the first few years they had to rely on the occasional visit of the Reverend John Vicars of the Anglican Church in Lindsay. They were most unhappy with this state of affairs and expressed their displeasure to Richard Sandars, who was sent by the Diocese of Toronto to investigate the condition of the Anglican Church in what is now Haliburton.

Sandars' mission resulted from a proposal of the Canadian Land and Emigration Company, which had purchased ten townships in the region, that they and the Anglican Church jointly support a clergyman for the settlers who were coming into the district. Sandars held meetings at various places, including Minden, and learned that the settlers were most anxious to obtain the services of a clergyman. They were willing to contribute to his support and assured Sandars that there would be no difficulty in erecting "a commodious wooden church", if their request were granted.

On the basis of Sandars' report, the Mission Board acceded to the proposal of the Canadian Land and Emigration Company, and appointed the Reverend Frederick Burt to the "Minden Mission". Burt was a native of Hampshire, England, and was educated at the Diocesan Theological College of Winchester. He came to Canada about 1858 and before his appointment to Minden had served in Montreal and at Huntingdon, Quebec.

After an unexpectedly difficult journey, Burt arrived in Haliburton early in June, 1865, and settled in Dysart Township. Often enduring great hardships because of the lack of roads, he travelled throughout his mission. He reported that "the congregation at Minden Village is large, over 70 were present at three services held there in a small school-house". In July he formed a vestry at Minden and later that year he took up residence there. No clergy house was immediately available, but in 1868 one was built and opened on Dominion Day.

While the exact date is unknown, it was about that time that the congregation began the construction of St. Paul's Church. Progress was evidently slow, for in 1874 Burt reported that the church was "not finished, from the fact that the people pay their way and so built and furnished by degrees". However, before that date the building was already in use.

The church was a simple frame structure and designed in the Gothic style with an elongated roof and overhanging eaves.

Stedman Raiders change name but still win

Mr. Seigmund Weiss owner of Minden's Gull River Buildall has taken over sponsorship of the now defunct Stedman Raiders.

It is with some regret that we say goodbye to Mr. Jerry Pillsworth of Stedman Raiders and we wish to thank him for his sponsorship over the last three years. It is unfortunate that Mr. Pillsworth chose this particular time to drop his sponsorship, just as the Raiders were off to the fastest start in their brief history, three wins without a loss and a very good chance of grabbing a Championship this year.

The fellows on the new Gull River Buildall team would like to thank Mr. Weiss for his quick decision to sponsor the team and we hope to bring him that league title.

The Builders continued their winning ways this week with two wins and their first loss of the season to remain in first place. The Builders started off the week with a home field victory over last years play-off and league champions, Haliburton Huskies to the tune of 4-3.

Gull River ran into its only trouble in this game in the second inning, when an attempted put out at first on a called third strike got past first baseman Bob Austin and allowed the Huskies to take a 2-0 lead.

Wayne Johnson got one back in the bottom of the second, with a bases empty homer, his first of the year. Neil Burk lined a triple off the right field fence scoring two runs and giving the Builders a 3-2 lead. Neil scored later in the inning on a single by Al McMullen. Huskies scored their final run in the ninth on a single by Lewis O'Hara, a stolen base and a double by Jamie Carroll.

Tommy Lee picked up his second victory of the year for Gull River while Huskies Mark Schell took the loss, evening his record at 2-2.

Dominion Hotel came up with two runs in the bottom of the ninth inning to cap a fine comeback in handing Gull River its first loss of the season 7-6.

The Builders jumped into a 3-0 lead in the first inning on three straight singles by Cliff Burke, Neil Burk and Bob Austin and a double by Wayne Johnson. Jack Snell brought Dominion to within two with a two-run homer in the fourth, however, Gull River scored once in the fifth and twice in the seventh on Neil Burk's two-run homer to go up 6-2.

This was when things fell apart for the Builders. In the bottom of the seventh, Dominion sent eight men to the plate and scored three times on five hits and the errors, bringing the score to 6-5. Dominion won the game in the ninth on four hits, an intentional walk and an error.

Jack Snell ran his record to three wins and a tie for Dominion and Rick Hartwick evened his record at one win and one loss with this defeat.

In other games this past week, Gull River downed Gooderham 12-1, Dominion Hotel trounced Vasey's Midgets 23-3 and West Guilford beat the Midgets 10-0.

In the Gull River game in Gooderham, Brad Hamilton gave winning pitcher Tommy Lee (3-0) all the runs he needed in the first inning with a three-run homer, his first of the year. Vince Billings suffered the loss.

Dominion got two-run homers from Dave Dollo and Dave Trepanier, to give Royce Miller all he needed in downing the Midgets. Tim Bain (1-2) took the loss for Vasey's.

The West Guilford Redmen made it 21 scoreless innings in a row Sunday evening in West Guilford when they blanked the Haliburton Midgets 10-0. The Redmen had previously blanked the Haliburton Huskies 6-0 in Haliburton Tuesday evening.

Once again the Redmen won with the long ball. On Tuesday, Craig Stamp hit his fourth homer of the year, a grand slam, and George Nichols hit a two-run shot to account for all the scoring. Against the Midgets, George Nichols hit a solo in the first inning, Floyd Henry hit a solo, his second of the year, in the second, Darrell Stamp got his first, a three run blast in the fifth and Craig Stamp with his fifth of the year, a three-run shot in the eighth. Craig Stamp was the winning pitcher in Haliburton, while Mark Schell took the loss for Huskies. In West Guilford against the Midgets, Wade Stamp picked up the shutout while Barry Shaw took the loss.

With almost one third (17) of the schedule completed, there have been eight games won by the home team and eight games won on enemy territory, while the other game was tied.

The leading league average is held by Dominion's Murray McGuiness with a splendid 687 including two home runs. The league leading pitcher is Tommy Lee of Gull River Buildall with a 3-0 mark and a 1.73 earned run average. Tom is followed in second by Craig Stamp of West Guilford with a 2-1 record and a 3.27 ERA. Third is Jack Snell of Dominion Hotel with a 3-0-1 record and a 3.40 ERA.

The leading home run hitters are Craig Stamp, West Guilford 5, and George Nichols, West Guilford 3. There are five players tied with two homers each, Floyd Henry of West Guilford, Dave Dollo, Murray McGuiness, Dave Trepanier and Jack Snell of Dominion Hotel.

News Letter

Paving operations were on last week in Haliburton when Royal Paving was in town to repave the sections of the village that had been torn up for the installation of sanitary sewers.

The twenty-second annual Commencement Exercises will be held in the auditorium of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School on Sunday, June 23, 1974 at 2.00 p.m.

This week we would like to take the opportunity to congratulate the Stanhope Airport Committee for the work that they put in to make their recent Centennial Fly-In such a success. The weather was ideal and the many attractions for the day made it one that will long be remembered.

The members of the Haliburton Rotary Club's summer carnival committee met recently following a Rotary meeting and discussed some of the final plans for the Carnival which will be held on Wednesday, August 7. Some changes in the format will be made this year and one of these will be the added attraction of a street dance. There is also the possibility that the parade this year will begin at the Rotary Beach.

The Municipality of Dysart is putting more fill in Head Lake in the area of the Rotary Caboose near the first crossing. When completed it will be an added improvement to this area.

We are sorry to report that Val Iles formerly of Haliburton passed away at Barrie, Ontario last week.

A woman told us the other day that the month of May was the coldest in eight years and we had more rain for that one month than in anytime in our history.

With the addition of floodlights at the Haliburton Ball Park it has made more playing time available and it would appear now that all junior and senior ball teams have plenty of time on the diamond.

A boat afloat is more easily spotted than a single person adrift. If your boat should capsize, use it as a life raft. Keep in the swim with Red Cross Water Safety all summer long.

A new addition is being constructed on the business establishment of Cliff Newbatt Appliances in Haliburton.

It won't be very long now before the boys will be back and the Haliburton Hockey Haven will be back in operation at the Haliburton Arena.

Skin diving is fun, but it needs to be taught by an expert. Don't experiment--enroll in a skin diving class. Keep in the swim with Red Cross Water Safety all summer long.

Kindergarten class visits farm

Our best left Victoria Street School on Tuesday, June 4. We went to Neal Brown's Grampa's farm, the Miscio farm. We fed the rabbits, held baby pigs, scratched the old father pig. Hens were laying eggs.

The Highland cows stared at us. We all had a pony ride.

Mrs. Brown gave us lots of good things to eat. Ken Pettigrew filmed us on Video Tape. We saw ourselves on T.V.!

A big, big thank you goes to Mr. Marvin Brown and the Browndale staff.

FROM THE TOWNSHIP OF LUTTERWORTH

Namesake of a market town in Leistershire, England, situated on the River Swift, Lutterworth Township was surveyed commencing in the fall of 1858. The survey was completed in the following year with the building of the Bobcaygeon Road along the eastern boundary of this Township.

Today Lutterworth Township is a very popular tourist area. Its many lakes, among which are Davis, Spar, Clear, East Moore's, Moore's, Gull, Black, Denna, Lutterworth, and Big, Middle and Little Bob Lakes, are lined with cottages to which people throng on weekends year round. Lutterworth is proud to claim two well-known boys' camps, being Kilcoo and Onondaga, as well as University of Toronto camp for engineering training.

Township records of 1884 show that the Lutterworth Council was made up of the following members: Reeve: David Galloway Councillors: John Bowron, John Hulbig, David Chalmers and Francis Belfry.

Touring Museumobile will visit Minden

In a continuing effort to take the Museum to the people of Ontario, the Royal Ontario Museum has instituted a programme of touring Museumobiles, with the support of the Ontario Government. It will be on display at Hylandcrest, Minden on Tuesday June 18.

For more than 30 years, the Museum's Education Department has maintained a programme of sending portable exhibits and teachers with authentic material to schools outside Toronto. Their aim is to provide school children in distant communities with at least some access to the Museum's collections.

The programme of mobile exhibits, or Museumobiles, is designed to take an exhibition, more extensive and more permanent in nature, to entire communities throughout the province. The Museumobiles are for young people and their parents and are not limited to school children.

Three Museumobiles, each 35 feet in length, are presently on the road and will travel Ontario continuously.

The first, from ROM's Department of Ethnology, has been on tour in southern Ontario since October 1972. On display are artifacts of the Woodland Algonkian and Iroquoian cultures. In addition there are films, film strips, slides and publications showing and explaining aspects of Indian life and thought. The purpose of this extension of the Royal Ontario Museum is to foster a greater interest in and a better understanding of Canada's native peoples.

"Fossils of Southern Ontario", the second Museumobile, illustrates 2 billion years of Ontario in rock, and began its tour of the province in June 1973.

Fossil specimens, maps, short films and written explanations guide the visitor through the exhibit. This Museumobile demonstrates dramatically the history of Ontario and the vital role fossils play in the documentation of past events.

The third Museumobile "Man in Ontario - the first 12,000 years" is the story, in broadest terms, of man from the time he first arrived in Ontario. Artifacts - tools and implements, first arrived in

The third Museumobile "Man in Ontario - the first 12,000 years" is the story, in broadest terms, of man from the time he first arrived in Ontario. Artifacts - tools and implements, and printed material outline the story from the Paleo Indians, who followed the retreat of the glacial ice into Ontario some 12,000 to 13,000 years ago, through the Historic of Fur Trade period, about 1600.

The Royal Ontario Museum's Museumobiles are designed so that they may be driven into a community, the door opened and the Museum, or a part of it, is there ready to be viewed.

Tax reform needed

By S. Armstrong Goff

Here we are facing another election and it is to be hoped that the men who are elected will take a long hard look at our tax laws.

Among the problems of rising food prices, real estate prices escalating and an upward push on interest rates it seems that tax reform has not received the attention that it requires.

The most urgent reform is simplification. There are an incredible number of revisions and corrections which flow in a paper torrent like water over a dam in a spring flood. Since tax legislation was passed almost two years ago more than 350 (that's right three hundred and fifty) technical amendments have been made to the original tax bill. Government accounts are not easy to read and this is a pity because taxpayers and voters could probably make better judgments if they were in possession of all the facts. Maybe the very hugeness of expenditures by governments makes the average person feel helpless.

If a church, home and school association or local organization seeks to increase its revenue or make additional expenditures fruitful discussions will ensue but most Canadians feel that government accounts are beyond comprehension and it would appear that our governments are quite capable of getting by with outrageous expenditures and even waste without even offering an explanation.

One of the astonishing pieces of tax legislation is Bill C-203 which proposes that contributions to political parties can be deducted from taxes, not from income as in charitable donations or as an expense. Some form of deduction may be desirable but there cannot be any justification for political contributors to be deducted from tax payable rather than income. This is just a sample of the confused middle. Do we have to endure another 100 amendments? One tax authority described the tax muddle as the greatest disaster since Dunkirk. Where does that leave the rest of us?

The above references are to Federal Tax Legislation but we have a beauty right here in Ontario. The so-called Speculation Tax act (which is not an act since it hasn't been passed) is about as poor as anything passed at Ottawa. To make a blanket provision and then set out exceptions is at best very questionable. Of course it is easy to draft but is difficult and often unjust in operation. The purpose of this act ostensibly was to curb the speculator. Why then was the act not directed to speculators not everybody (with a few exceptions)? The very essence of land distribution for the small man is threatened. Why doesn't the act define a speculator (probably by amount) and leave the small man alone? A further objection is the most unusual provision that a citizen is forced to be penalized by acting legally and then sometime in the future if and when the bill becomes law, if one has not acted as required in such law (before it was passed) then retro-actively the government will dig up a past transaction which was legal at the time and collect a tax from him. This is thoroughly bad legislation and it is no wonder that the largest group of lawyers ever assembled in Toronto protected this procedure. One lawyer is known to have said that up to date he had been proud of legislation in Ontario for its simplicity and clarity but that this bill was the worst he had ever seen.

I believe we have men capable of drafting clear legislation without the necessity of patching it up with hundreds of amendments. Let us hope some of these men will surface in this election.

Centennial Choir outstanding

At the beginning of our Centennial year the Haliburton County Social Planning Council wondered in what way it could make a contribution to Haliburton County's Centennial. The council was looking for something which everyone could participate in. The council came up with the idea of a Haliburton County Centennial choir. Bill Gliddon was approached at this time to lead the choir and when the message went out that singers were needed, sixty men and women from all parts of the county rallied together and when a count was taken it was found that the choir would be made up of sixty members.

Bill Gliddon a well known local musician who directs the choir was asked to write a centennial song. This he did in short notice and he is to be congratulated for writing such a beautiful piece of music. The choir sings this popular song at most of its appearances.

The centennial choir has made a big hit at the many centennial events that it has appeared at in the first six months of centennial year. The choir was a standout at Ontario Place and in our opinion is one of the best choirs in the Province of Ontario.

This musical group is in great demand and the following is a list of some of the events that it will be singing at in the future: Minden Fall Fair, Gay Nineties Night at Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home, Harcourt Fun Fair, St. Pauls Church Minden, on June 16 and a special church service to be held in front of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School on September 29.

The members of this wonderful choir are to be congratulated for giving their time free of charge and we here in the County should be mighty proud of the fact that we have such a wonderful choir that really adds a great deal to our centennial.

Cyclists must obey 'rules of the road'

Commissioner H. H. Graham reminds the cyclist that he is operating a vehicle and he has to conform to the same 'rules of the road' as the car driver.

As with a car, your bicycle must be in good working order and you must know your bicycle safety rules.

So, parents - before your youngsters get their bikes out of the basement, check them over and satisfy yourself that they're properly equipped and in good condition.

Make sure that the children know their safety rules - perhaps you could even give them a cycling test. If you are not sure of the rules, the Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police will be only too pleased to help you.

And cyclists, know how your bike works - remember it needs regular maintenance, the same as a car.

At this time of year, motorists should be particularly watchful for the inexperienced cyclist. Young children especially pre-schoolers can be totally unpredictable - keep an eye out for them, and always expect the unexpected.

Pic of the Past

Here's another oldie for this weeks Pic of the Past. A woman is shown decorating an old model car in the fairgrounds at Haliburton in preparation for one of the Calithumpian parades that were held in the village in bygone days. Our thanks go out to Mr. Thomas A.

BILL SMILEY

EXPOSED NAVELS AND MY BAD BACK by Bill Smiley

Every year I look forward eagerly to the last part of May and the first part of June.

Once again the world is green, the days are longer, it is no longer brass monkey weather, the trout season is open, the golf links beckon. Best of all, end of term is nearing, holidays looming, and I'll be able to forget those juvenile friends for two golden months.

What more could a man want? And yet, every year at this time I am frustrated as a frog who thinks he's a butterfly.

There are a number of villains in this particular tragedy. Meetings proliferate. Every time I should be listening to the solid crack of a drive or the lovely clunk of a golf ball going into the cup,

I seem to be sitting at a meeting, listening to some utterly inane suggestion that yet another committee be formed to look into nothing or other.

Warm weather? Yeah, that's nice. But it makes the students coltish, to say the least. And in these days of permissive school dress, it can be totally confusing. There you are, trying to teach the elements of a unified, coherent, and emphatic paragraph. And sprawled right in front of you is a young woman, physically, at least, a veritable Daisy Mae, in a backless, bra-less halter and a pair of shorts so short and so tight they look as though they've been put on with a paint roller.

Blank-eyed, she is completely lost to the beauties of communication via the printed word. Her thoughts are fixed on a different kind of communication, the kind she's going to share with Joe, when he picks her up after supper.

The only part of her that is paying any attention whatever to her English teacher is her exposed navel, which stares at you unwinkingly.

End of term approaching? Great. But what is this vast pile of paper beside my desk? Three sets of term tests, two sets of creative writing, two sets of fresh endings for a play. I've tried staring at them malevolently. I've tried spilling coffee on them. I tried dumping the ashtray on them, accidentally. But they merely smouldered, like me. They won't go away. They have to be marked. Not conducive to trout fishing.

Well, you'll say, these are minor things. If Smiley was organized, he could cope with these irritations, and still enjoy his late spring.

True. But I haven't introduced you to the real beast on the roster. This is the estate.

Every fall, I get the place cleaned up. Last fall we put out ninety plastic bags of leaves. I got a guy to put on the storm windows, not because I'm lazy, or can afford it, but because I'm too chicken to climb a forty-foot ladder, with a forty-pound window, in a forty-mile wind.

And this spring we've put out already forty bags of leaves, left over from last fall, plus another twenty bags of acorns and twigs and there are still thirty bags stacked against the side of the house.

I simply haven't time to do this work. Besides, I have this bad back, which gets sore every spring, for some reason. It's almost impossible to hire kids to do the work. They want more than it would have cost me to have somebody rubbed out, in the Chicago of the 1920's.

So this spring, the Old Battleaxe, urged on by friends and me, took a whack at it.

Her previous help with the "yard" has been confined to, "Bill, when are you going to get this place cleaned up? What will the neighbours think?" I'd hate to tell you what I tell her the neighbours can think, if they want to.

Anyway, after about five days of raking and stuffing bags, she burst out with, "Dearie me, Bill," (or words to that effect), "this isn't a backyard. It's THE LAND." She felt like a pioneer, trying to clear enough to live on.

I had rid myself of my old power mower, in a fit of gentle rage, when I couldn't start it. You can't hire a kid with a power mower. So I bought a new one. I got one of my students to run it, only by threatening that I'd fail his year if he didn't.

The lawn is cut. There are only eight flower-beds left to rake and dig. And the storm windows are still on. The Argyle Syndicate Ltd.

Spring fashion show is held at Haliburton

Photographer Dal Hubbert was on hand at the Spring Fashion Show held at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School in Haliburton on Wednesday evening June 5 and shot pictures of the students displaying the new spring fashions for the large crowd in attendance. The commentator for the fashion show was Karen Barry who is shown below reading her script for the evening. Everyone who attended the show seemed to really enjoy it and it gave everyone the opportunity to see what is happening in the fashion world.

Trent receives $13,000

Two grants totalling more than $12,000 will assist the further development this summer of the audio library program at Trent University in Peterborough. Nine students will be involved in two projects.

The audio library program tapes texts for blind and otherwise handicapped students and works in close cooperation with a number of similar programs across Canada.

Stewart Hayter, its director, said that the grants will "substantially enhance our program" and represent "very encouraging" response from the federal government to the needs of blind students.

The grants are from two federal sources. One, for $6,500 is an Opportunities for Youth grant and will provide salaries for five Trent University students who will tape badly needed Canadian texts over the summer. They expect to complete from 25 to 30 texts in that period, catalogue them in braille, and to make some assessment of the audio library's achievements in its first year.

The other grant, from the Student Community Service Program, is for $6,080. It will permit the hiring of four students whose chief work will be toward the more extensive and effective involvement of volunteer readers.

The five students, all from Trent, who received the OFY grant are: Mary Jane Kirby of Guelph, Jan Parr of Islington, Kathy Nessner of Rexdale, Kathleen Stewart of Toronto, and Varuna Shandilya of Trinidad. Miss Nessner, a blind student, will undertake the braille cataloguing of texts completed through the summer.

Four more will be hired under the SCSP grant, and will develop and implement a campaign to attract volunteer readers. With the advice and assistance of Mr. Hayter, they will also devise a training program for readers which will remain in effect after the grant expires. They will also examine the possibility of developing training centres in the city, as a convenience to volunteers who may find it difficult or impossible to travel to the Trent campus.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Shepro (nee Eleanor Easton) were married November 23, 1974 at St. George's Anglican Church, Haliburton, Ontario. They are now residing in South Pasadena, California.

Jack Robertson of Haliburton is shown displaying the big fish he caught in Lake Kashagawigamog on May 18th, 1974 at 12.15 p.m. The fish weighed 14 lbs-2oz. with a circumference of 18 inches and the length was 36 inches.

Spruce budworm infests Algonquin

A major infestation of spruce budworm is presently active in much of Algonquin Park, according to regional director, J S Ball.

The spruce budworm is a small brown moth which, in its larval stage, feeds on the needles of balsam fir and spruce. Periodically, it experiences a tremendous population explosion, and at such times, the appetite of the millions of tiny larvae can mean the complete defoliation of thousands of trees. If this intensity of feeding is maintained for several years, a large proportion of the trees will be killed.

When the population of insects finally 'crashes', the stands of balsam, spruce, and occasionally other conifers, will have been seriously damaged or killed, Mr Ball points out.

Because of the present infestation a detailed evaluation of the potential loss and damage to the park's timber and recreational values was made and a plan of action developed, he says.

Federal government experts with the Canada Department of Agriculture, Ministry of Natural Resources Forest Management Branch specialists and various Algonquin Region and District personnel have been involved in all stages of the operations.

"It was recognized that the infestation was large, but did not pose a serious threat to stands of timber grown for commercial purposes. In several areas of recreational development near Highway 60, spruce and balsam fir form important parts of the forest," he states. "Something had to be done to keep these particular trees alive until after the infestation had run its natural course -- and it was clear that only insecticide spraying had any hope of achieving that end.

In the period between May 22 and June 4, approximately 1,700 acres of forest immediately adjacent to prime recreation areas along Highway 60 were aerially sprayed. In realization of the sensitivity of Park values and public appreciation for them, the Ministry maintained a very tight control on the entire operation, Mr Ball states. Experts from the Canada Department of Agriculture will be on hand throughout. Spraying was conducted only under ideal atmospheric conditions. The best pilots available were employed, and they used a very slow-flying aircraft to ensure the accuracy of the spraying. There was no spraying over water areas. The sites to be sprayed were all carefully evaluated and mapped out. Only half the recommended dosage of insecticide was used. In some areas, such as parts of the campgrounds and areas immediately adjacent to lakes, spraying was accomplished by ground equipment.

A special, non-toxic oil is mixed with the insecticide for spraying purposes, and as this oil can discolor painted surfaces and clothing, the Two Rivers and Mew Lake Campgrounds were closed during the spraying period. The insecticide used for most of the operation is called Zectran; it is highly rated by both the Canadian Forestry Service and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency for its combination of efficiency and relative safety to non-target organisms. Test research indicates that it holds no danger to humans.

In addition, the area of the Ministry youth camp is being test sprayed with an insect virus (popularly known as 'Bt')--a new tool of insect control which is believed to be even more specific to moths than the traditional chemical insecticides, and consequently, with less environmental impact.

This program is not intended to stop the infestation. It is hoped that by spraying several, particularly important localities, the balsam and spruce forests covering them can be kept alive and green until the infestation dies out. "In this way, we hope to avoid the destruction of these important recreational facilities along Highway 60," Mr. Ball emphasizes.

Memories

Well I have just had an interesting session with the area Bell official, all very cordial, fine personell, trying to clear up a request from a California resident on some past history etc, rather unusual, small cheque included. Thankyou!

All of these little chores that come to my hand I presume from long residence keeps me on the bit as it were.

Very truly we have had wonderful changes in this old world. My grandmother on my father's side of the aisle came from Co. Armagh, Ireland at age 18, in the 1830's, six weeks on the briny deep, and I believe the old tub floundered on the way back. Now if we have the price and the rate is reasonable we can breakfast in Newfoundland and lunch in London.

Yet it seems fairly strange we do have to rush around as we do. Why in the early days of the century I can well remember often riding to the village with father and we would meet a neighbour stop for a few minutes chat to see if Susie's croup had cleared up, or if Charles broken leg was allowing him to go to school, and if Chris Krugers litter of 17 pigs were all still living.

One story of the day not so far back had to do with the Hydro development in the area. It appears the lady of the house was afraid the Falls might dry up or the lightning destroy the poles, this, that or the other, so she carried a wee lamp to the cellar with her.

Hang it all I better cut this out, folks will think I am getting old.

My congratulations to the fine Barnhart sisters on their showing at Ontario Place, good representation for this good County of Haliburton.

See you next week.

Some memories of Grandfather

a serial by
Eileen Caines

When the first world war came, Grandpa was a young married man with a family. There were two battalions of men billeted and trained for duty in Haliburton. The first of these, The 109th, was made up of men entirely from the Haliburton area, a company of fifty or sixty men. The second battalion, contained men from all over the world. The cenitaph in Haliburton has the names of those men who gave their lives, in line of duty. One of these is Joseh Howe, son of Grandpa's eldest brother, Joe Howe, sr.

When my sisters and brothers and myself were small children we would beg Grandpa to tell us stories. One story in particular we never tired of hearing. He had a wooden trunk with several compartments in it, full of all sorts of things that were a source of wonder to us. There was a postcard with a picture of a red devil, horns, pitch fork and all, painted on it.

Always, when at Grandpa's we would have him get the card from the trunk, and then, "Please Grandpa, tell us about the time you 'really' saw the devil". His dark eyes would light up, and he would say, "Oh now, you don't want to hear that old story again".

We would assure him we did, so he would gather us around him and begin. "Well one time when I was working in the camp, I came in pretty late this night, and all the others lads were sleeping. I quietly shut the door, and tippy toed to my bunk to take off my shoes and socks. All the light there was came from a coal-oil lamp hanging on the wall. Well I had my boots and one sock off, when the light started flickering and jumping up and down, as if there was a draft. I thought maybe I hadn't shut the door up tight, and was just going to look, when this damn thing came through the door!" "Right through it mind, because it was shut. Well Sir, it came in and just stood there for a minute, looking around. I thought at first it was a man of some kind, and then I saw it wasn't really standing on the floor, but just sort of floating in the air, about a foot above it. Damnest thing I ever saw!"

Here he would pause and look at us, and we would say, "Go on Grandpa! What did it do, weren't you scared, what did it look like"!!?

"Well now, I was scared alright!, so darn scared I didn't do anything, just sat on my bunk and watched it. I knew it was the devil, because it had horns, and carried a little sharp pointed itch fork, just exactly like the picture on the post card. You know, I painted that, so I could show people what I saw that night. He didn't pay any attention to me, but started sort of floating around in little hops, from bunk to bunk, looking at each man, and saying, "No, not you, and sometimes stop a little longer at one bunk and say, Not you either, not yet".

Finally he stopped at one bunk, looked at the fellow in it, and said, "You, your the one!" "Then he just floated on over by the door, and went on out into the night, right through the wall. I've never seen him since, and don't want to, but the very next day the fellow he had looked at for so long, was killed in the bush, a tree fell on him!"

Can you, reader, imagine yourself as a child, and know the chills and thrills of delight at such a story?

One of the fondest memories I have, of my Grandfather, are when he had a cabin on the shore of old Drag Lake. Every summer most of my days were spent there, as were those of Clarence, Don and my sister Doris. My cousins Harold and Ruth also, when they came during their holidays. A lady who was Grandpa's friend also had a cottage nearby. She had two sons near our age, and never did a band of kids have such fun filled summers.

Grandpa would take us fishing, swimming, boating, berry picking, for long trips through the woods, anything we suggested. At night time we always had a camp fire and singsong, and of course the wonderful story telling. Grandpa was never happier than when surrounded by a band of children. Many are the old "river" songs that rose on the still night air, accompanied by an old guitar held in childish hands.

Songs that told a story of real life, and sometimes brought tears to a listener's eye.

There is a sheer cliff of rock, near where the cabin stood. This rock rises straight from the waters edge, to a height of about one hundred feet. It is pink in color, and if you look close enough you can see the shape of a horse head in the rock at one spot. The cliff has always been called "Red Rock".

Memories...

The one and only time I ever saw Grandpa Howe really angry, was on top of this same old rock. He had taken us up to pick blueberries, for they grew in abundance here. Doris and I, although we should have known better, were trying to stand as close to the edge of rock as we possibly could, and look down on the water.

All of a sudden, strong hands grabbed us and pulled us away from the edge. A very angry Grandpa Howe stood before us. The blistering "calling down", so richly deserved, we heard that day, was I'm sure heard all down the lake.

The last comments I remember went like this. "By the crooked black hearted, sizzling old mery hell, if you kids ever do that again I'll skin you alive, and you won't sit down for a month with the blisters on your ass".

Imagining today what so easily could have happened, had a pebble rolled under our feet, or a piece of earth given way while we stood on the edge of that cliff, can still make me shiver with horror.

Another day, after we had been again to pick blueberries, Grandpa went out on the lake to catch a fish for supper. Two of the boys, Austen and Harold, decided it would be nice to bake a pie for dessert. Well they baked the pie, and I'll never forget the look on Grandpa's face when he took his first bite. "J-----s C-----t, boys, you forgot to put the sugar in".

Great Uncle Tom (Dad's Uncle), had a cabin on Drag Lake at this time also. Back behind the cabin was a deep cave in the rocks. (still there). In this cave the sun never shines, and even in July and August, there would still be icicles hanging. This is where Uncle Tom kept his butter and milk.

Uncle Tom was deaf, but he could tell every word spoken to him by lip reading. Because he was deaf he spoke very loud, and you could hear him all over the lake. He would often come across the lake to his cabin late at night in a canoe. We would hear him singing as he came. He was definitely not a good singer, but he sure sang loud. Grandpa said one night, "What in thunderation is that caterwalling out on the lake, sounds like somebody haunting the place".

I can close my eyes now, and look back, hear the rain at night on the roof on Grandpa's cabin, hear the wind in the tall pines. Smell the scent of pine needles, taste the winter-green berries. Hear the call of the loon. And the bird songs on the fresh morning air.

There is no more magnificent sight than to stand on the top of old red rock, and watch the storm clouds gather over the lake. Hear the crash of thunder, see the lightning flash rent the air, in long jagged streaks, see the white caps on the waves.

Then, as the rain comes driving down, run, run like a deer down the steep trail, and burst into the cabin wet and windblown, your heart gay and full of laughter, feeling at peace with all the universe.

If there is a hereafter, this is where I choose to spend it. At Grandpa's cabin, on the shore of old Drag Lake, with all my loved ones gathered together.

Grandfather always wore a mustache, and I never saw him without it, but Mother recalls the one and only time she did. This was when she and her sister Violet were young girls, and the family attended the Baptist Church.

This particular Sunday

the two girls went to church ahead of their parents. Mom saw her mother come in, accompanied by a strange man. She turned to her sister, "Who is that man with mother", she asked. Aunt Violet replied, "I don't know, but it can't be Dad".

However on up the aisle they came, sitting down behind the girls, neither of whom heard the sermon that Sunday, being too busy looking back at the strangely familiar man. The mystery was not cleared up until after church, when looking directly into those snapping, fun filled black eyes, Mother recognized her Father--minus the mustache. To her knowledge it never was shaved again.

Grandpa's speech was to say the least, "picturesque", and punctuated with expressions not heard in Sunday school. Many a time I have heard him greet an old and dear friend, he had not seen for a long time, with these words, "You old s.o.b. How in hell are you, damn your hide, I'm glad to see you"! This was of course, meant to convey true friendship!

Grandfather built several houses in the village of Haliburton. It seemed he would just "get things nice and comfortable", when some friend or acquaintance would come along and request he sell to them. After "dickering", awhile, he would, more to accomodate the friend than anything else.

However, the last cottage he built, he would never sell. It was on a quiet street, now named "Victoria Street", and it stood amidst tall, huge old pines. When the wind whispered through the branches, Grandpa would say, "Listen to that, it reminds me of my little cabin, on the shore of old Drag Lake".

People problems can be serious problems.

This is what Ontario is doing to help solve them in advance.

Recently arrangements were made for a group of Indian children to attend the public school in a northern Ontario town. The principal of the school in the town was aware that Indian children sometimes had a rough time at the hands of other students, and to try to forestall this kind of situation, he called in a Human Rights Commission counsellor to talk to the other children. The counsellor asked the children if any of them had ever moved to a new school, and what they thought it would feel like if they were the strangers. In this way he helped them understand how the Indian children would be feeling when they arrived, and the integration proceeded relatively smoothly.

Community counselling is one of the major roles of your Ontario Human Rights Commission. We hold seminars and discussions with police in areas where there are communication barriers between them and minority groups, to help relieve tension and promote mutual understanding. We attend meetings of immigrants and native-born minority groups to explain to them both their rights under the legislation and their responsibilities as citizens of this Province.

We also help bring people into contact with local agencies like home-and-school groups, community and government agencies, and churches, which are available to help but which many people don't even know exist. Wherever there's a difficulty based on race, language, colour or creed, the Human Rights Commission is available to generate discussion and motivate people to develop understanding and respect for the other's point of view.

Our job is to help bring people together and encourage healthier relationships among all groups.

Girl Guide mothers meet in school

On Monday night, April 1, 1974, a meeting was held at the Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School, of mothers in Haliburton who have girls interested in becoming members of the Brownie and Girl Guides organization in the county of Haliburton. Approximately 15 mothers were in attendance and were able to meet with the Commissioner of Highland District, Mrs. Eleanor Freeman, who gave all women present an excellent presentation of what Guiding is all about.

Late last year and early this year, parents will remember that their girls brought home from school, some pink application and information forms regarding Brownies or Girl Guides, which were to be filled in and returned to the schools. As a result of the response to these forms and numerous telephone inquiries, the Commissioner called the afore mentioned meeting.

As a result of the meeting held on April 1, two ladies were temporarily appointed to start things rolling for the Girl Guides, and two ladies were appointed to look after the Brownies. Mrs. Clara Higgins is the Brown Owl, and Mrs. Sandra Johnson is the Tawny Owl of 1st. Haliburton Brownie Pack. Mrs. Evelyn Brooks and Mrs. Betty Roberts were temporarily appointed to look after the Girl Guides.

Since the mother's meeting in Haliburton was held, Mrs. Freeman has also held two other meetings, one in West Guilford and one in Wilberforce. As a result of the meeting in West Guilford, Brownies and Girl Guides have also begun there, under the able Leadership of Miss Nadine Sisson, the Brown Owl of 1st. West Guilford Brownie Pack, and Mrs. Jacqueline Barry, Captain, and Mrs. Ellen Mulholland, Lieutenant, of 1st. West Guilford Guide Company. Mrs. Barry and Mrs. Mulholland were both Girl Guides in their youth. Already, the West Guilford Brownies and Guides have held a combined Rummage Sale and Bake Sale, which proved to be very successful.

In Wilberforce, Mrs. Freeman was met with the same enthusiastic response to Brownies and Guides as she did in Haliburton and West Guilford. Mrs. Flo Taylor is Captain and Mrs. Ruth Casey is Lieutenant of 1st. Wilberforce Guide Company. Donna Burroughs has been helping them with the girls in the past few weeks due to the Large membership. They have 25 girls in Guides. Mrs. Roberta Walsh is the Brown Owl and Mrs. Shirley Mumford is the Tawny Owl of the 1st. Wilberforce Brownie Pack.

Once it has been established that Brownies and Girl Guides are needed and wanted by girls, the biggest requirement is to find women who would be willing to give of their time and themselves to be leaders of these girls. With the exception of the Guide leaders in West Guilford, all of the ladies who have willingly offered themselves as Guiders in West Guilford, Haliburton, and Wilberforce, had never been enrolled as Girl Guides and so they must learn the Tenderfoot Requirements the Same as the girls, and be enrolled by the Commissioner.

On Thursday May 16, an enrollment night was held, a which Commissioner Freeman attended and enrolled the following women into Girl Guides of Canada as Guiders; Mrs. Sandra Curry, Captain, Mrs. Betty Roberts, Lieutenant, Mrs. Eileen Pripp, Lieutenant, and Mrs. Carol Rouble, Lieutenant, of 1st. Haliburton Guide Company; Miss Nadine Sisson, Brown Owl of 1st. West Guilford Brownie Pack; and Mrs. Clara Higgins, Brown Owl, and Mrs. Sandra Johnson, Tawny Owl, of 1st. Haliburton Brownie Pack.

These ladies and the ladies from Wilberforce were all appointed at a District Meeting held in West Guilford on May 9. At that meeting, Commissioner Freeman also made two appointments as Deputy Commissioners in the persons of Mrs. Judy Purc of Minden, and Mrs. Evelyn Brooks of Haliburton. These two ladies are endeavouring to assist the Commissioner with Guiding in Highland District which comprises all Guide Companies and Brownie Packs in Minden, Carnarvon, West Guilford, Haliburton, and Wilberforce, and in the Fall, Kinmount.

On Haliburton's Centennial day at Ontaio Place, there were three bus loads of Brownies and Guides that made the trip down to Toronto. One each from Minden, Haliburton, and Wilberforce, to enter into the celebrations. At this time, the season is growing to a close with most weekly meetings ending this month. A full season beginning in September is being looked forward to by girls and Guiders alike.

Before the end of June, the Guides of 1st. Haliburton Company is going to hold an enrollment night, at which time, all guides who have successfully passed the Tenderfoot Requirements, will be enrolled into Girl Guides of Canada by Commissioner Freeman. the enrollment is to be held on Thursday night, June 20th, at 7:00 p.m. at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall in Haliburton. All guides being enrolled will be inviting their parents to attend this special evening.

The Brownies of 1st. Wilberforce Pack are also going to have an enrollment night this month. This special night will be held on Wednesday June 26th, at the Fire Hall. Also at this special night, it is hoped that Commissioner Freeman will be enrolling into Girl Guides of Canada, the Wilberforce ladies as Guiders; namely Mrs. Flo Taylor, Captain, Mrs. Ruth Casey, Lieutenant, and Miss Donna Burroughs, Lieutenant, of 1st. Wilberforce Guide Company; and Mrs. Roberta Walsh, Brown Owl, and Mrs. Shirley Mumford, Tawny Owl, of 1st. Wilberforce Brownie Pack.

TODAY'S CHILD

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

BY HELEN ALLEN

When the picture was taken, Charlie's left eye was swollen and the next day it was black and blue. All because of one of those inevitable things that happen to active small fellows when they climb adventurously high and fall off.

Charlie is 4, slim, small for his age and good-looking with dark eyes and brown hair. He is in good health but slightly awkward physically because his co-ordination is not the best.

Charlie is below average in ability and will need special education later on. Now, however, he attends a regular nursery school where he fits in well. He mixes happily with the other children and takes part in all group activities with enthusiasm. He is a chatty child but mostly in single words since he cannot yet put a sentence together.

Charlie sometimes gives the impression that he doesn't understand what is being said to him but his foster mother feels he is just trying her out. She has no trouble when she invites him firmly to sit on his little chair and listen. He is a good sleeper and amiably eats everything offered to him.

An affectionate, smiling youngster, Charlie is friendly and trusting, not at all shy. He loves energetic outdoor play and is glad of good weather so he can ride his tricycle. Charlie welcomes any opportunity to go for a drive. He likes the rabbits and cats belonging to his foster family.

Charlie needs loving, firm consistent parents who will appreciate his winning personality and not worry over his limited ability.

To inquire about adopting Charlie, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888,

HE'S FRIENDLY AND HAPPY

'Today's Child' celebrates 10th anniversary this issue

by Leslie K. Tarr

Helen Allen's task that was intended in 1964 to be "a couple of hours a day" side-line has become a lifetime passion.

"I can't imagine another newspaper feature that has altered for the better so many human lives," says Andrew MacFarlane, dean of the faculty of journalism at the University of Western Ontario.

Although she has lived most of her life in the Toronto area, Miss Allen was born in Dundurn, Sask., where her father was a Presbyterian minister. Two years after the birth of their only child, the family moved to Ontario.

From their home in Aurora, Helen proceeded to University College, at the University of Toronto with the dream of becoming a high school teacher. She joined the staff of Varsity, the university student paper, and dreams of teaching vanished.

"From my first day on Varsity, I could think of no other career but journalism," she recalls.

On graduation in 1929, she headed immediately to the staff of the Toronto Telegram and a variety of assignments.

"Nothing I have ever done has given me the satisfaction that I receive from Today's Child. I feel absolutely privileged to have a part in finding homes for those wonderful children."

Asked about her method of preparing columns, Miss Allen makes it sound simple. "I try very hard to tell the story so that the child will emerge as an individual."

The individualism shines through. One day three children appeared at the front desk of the paper. Their mother had written to apply for a specific child described in Today's Child. Their hopes raised to the breaking point, the children had come to see their new brother. "Where do you keep the babies?" they asked a baffled receptionist.

No Children's Aid Society is more concerned than Helen Allen is to protect the child. "I could never forgive myself," she says with deep conviction, "if something I wrote wounded a child who has probably already had more than his share of knocks."

She's equally persuaded that the child should be honestly described.

"I don't feel it is discriminating to mention a child's racial origin or mental ability. People say that a child shouldn't be labelled, but in the early days of Today's Child our descriptions weren't extensive or honest enough."

"In one instance, 40 to 50 families applied to adopt an attractive looking 8-year-old boy, but all fell by the wayside when they learned he was a slow learner."

"I feel it is better to tell what a child is like at the beginning. Then prospective parents are much more likely to follow through."

The value of the column has been recognized by other Canadian provinces and U.S. states which have adopted the concept and initiated similar columns.

Success has added new responsibilities. First there was the inauguration of a TV program, Family Finder. The station, CFTO in Toronto, insisted that Helen Allen must be the commentator-hostess on the weekly half-hour features which spotlight in person children available for adoption.

From a one channel presentation in 1969 it is now shown on 13 Ontario TV stations.

Public honors have come her way in recognition of her labor of love. Ten months after inauguration of the column, Premier John Robarts presented an Ontario Government Special Citation to her. In 1968, the provincial government appointed her to the advisory committee on adoption and foster care.

The Canadian Government recognized her contribution in 1971 when she was awarded the medal of Service of the Order of Canada.

The recognition which she covets more than public honors is the type that periodically come from grateful children who have found a home.

One mother packaged up a poster designed by her "son of choice." Adorned with finger-painted, smiling members of a family, it bore the simple heart-tugging caption: "Happiness is having a brother, sister, mother, father and a bike."

United Church women meet

An executive meeting of the Lindsay Presbyterian United Church Women was held in Fenelon Falls on May 28.

The President Mrs. Roese, Burnt River, welcomed everyone and opened the meeting with a poem. Mrs. G. Stewart of Brechin presented the worship service opening with "Be still and know that I am God."

The theme of the worship was "The use of Time". The scripture was read by four ladies from Matt Chapter 14: 17:6 and Luke 9. The commentary was on the use of time both what we do and don't do. Time is a gift from God. She closed with a story depicting a ladies use of time and prayer.

The Presbyterian date for 1975 will be Jan. 28 in Fenelon Falls and will be based on the 50th anniversary of the United Church. Thanks was to be extended to all who helped to prepare the Indian Display at Conference in Peterborough, especially the Curye Lake and Rama Indians. Mrs. B. Dickson of Oshawa requested that we send letters to our local M.P.'s concerning the Sunday retailing. There will be a Leadership Development Day, sponsored by the Conference in Fenelon Falls on June 10 10 to 3 o'clock. Those attending will be the secretaries of Finance, Social Action and Community Friendship, Stewardship and Program and any other interested person. An invitation is extended to anyone to attend a meeting on Church Union at Marmara on June 13, 10 to 3 o'clock. We are asked again to give at least $5 from each local U.C.W. to help support a Home for Indian Girls in Toronto and $300. will go to buy a typewriter for Norway House. Delegates for the School for Leaders was discussed and anyone attending will be given $5 for expenses. Sympathy is extended to Mrs. W. Russell and on behalf of Mrs. Russell, who was a Presbyterian officer for six years, a Memorial gift was given to M. and S. in memory of Mr. Russell.

The Literature secretary reported that she had been to Janetville with a book display and had ordered books for the Workshop on June 10. The Supply and Welfare secretary distributed folders of ways and places we can help supply and welfare. Dominion Store tapes can be collected and used for items needed in Victoria Manor and Hillcrest Lodge. It was suggested that if we wish to learn about abortion we can have a speaker from Right to Life group. Mrs. C. Kanyer of Lindsay can be contacted.

Ladies were asked to volunteer to bring patients to the hospital especially those who live in the north and have no means of transportation. Mrs. D. Wellman reported Dr. Bruce McLeod's address at Conference in Peterborough, which centred on the New Creed. Others reported on themes of other speakers, especially Dr. Edmonds. Delegates to Training Events at Five Oaks may have expenses met by a fund that must be applied for through Presbytery.

It was suggested that our local U.C.W.'s might plan something for the 50th anniversary of the United Church.

Minor hockey meeting

The Haliburton minor hockey association held an executive meeting on June 6.

Several money raising ventures were planned.

Bake sales, organized by the ladies auxiliary will be held on July 20 and Aug. 11.

Minor hockey booster pins and a tag day are some other ways the associations hopes to raise money to pay its operating deficit for the '73-'74 season.

The motion from the general meeting for a new fee schedule was ratified by the executive. It will be $8.00 for one child, $15.00 for two or more per family. This includes girls playing hockey. An expanded programme and more expenses for referees has caused this slight increase.

Wayne Barry won the hockey pool on the Stanley Cup final game score.

Haliburton minor hockey realized $25.00 from this pool.

Future plans were made for a float in the Rotary carnival parade and a coaching clinic in the fall. The next executive meeting will be on Sept. 12.

Choir party

William Gliddons honoured

A party, hosted by present and former choir members, was held at St. George's Anglican Church recently. The guest of honour was Mr. William Gliddon, organist and choir director.

Mrs Louise Madden welcomed those present and introduced a musical program given by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnston, Glenda Burk, Penny Hartin and George Thayer.

Following this a humorous biography of Mr Gliddon was shown on slides by Peggie Neville and George Thayer.

The biography represented Mr Gliddons musical career from its earliest years to his present day involvement in music throughout the county.

His contribution to the music of St George's Church, his encouragement of young vocalists and the great many hours he devotes to the Christmas Pageant and other church occasions was then publicly recognized. Expressing the appreciation and affection of all those whose lives had been enriched by his gift of music, Miss Joyce Williams presented Mr Gliddon with the gift of a television set and table.

It was a pleasant, informal evening. A time to visit with old friends some of whom had come from a distance to share the happiness of the occasion. The Rev. and Mrs Frank Ford and family of Woodbridge had to make the return trip that smae evening but their presence gave added pleasure to a delightful evening.

Financial Statements

December 31, 1973

AUDITORS' REPORT

To: The Members of Council, Inhabitants and Ratepayers of the Corporation of the Townships of Anson, Hindon & Minden.

We have examined the 1973 financial statements of the Corporation of the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden and its local boards, which are listed on the attached Index. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Corporation of the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden and its local boards as at December 31, 1973 and the results of their operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for Ontario municipalities applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

News from Hall's Lake

The Fly-In at Stanhope Air Field on Sunday, June 2, was a real success. The day proved to be perfect for the many planes, the stunts, and all the interesting and exciting events the committee had lined up for the day-long programme. Carlings' Aerobatic Team and the Parachute Jumpers and the water-bombing demonstration by the Lands and Forest boys were all spectacular and watched by the crowd with great interest. The Centennial Choir and the famous Haliburton Pipe Band were featured also and did their parts well. We think Mrs. Lil. Rawlins deserves a big hand for helping out by M.C'ing the Choir and for doing so much to co-ordinate the Centennial Choir. Louise Watson has been doing a great job too for the Airport Committee and these Fly-In's demand a lot of organizing behind the scenes as well as on the Big Day itself. We understand another one will be coming up in the Fall.

Mrs. Jean Wheeler had an eventful week-end recently when five of her grandchildren were christened at St. Stephen's Church by the Rev. Andrew Hutchison. They are the family of her son Richard and his wife Lou. Mr. and Mrs. Rose (Mrs. Rose is Mrs. Wheeler's daughter) and family, and also another son Ron and his family were all home for the occasion as well as Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Rose of Bell River who visited for a few days. On the Monday a service of burial was held for the late Mr. Lawrence Wheeler with Requiem Mass conducted by the Rev. Andrew Hutchison.

Centennial Day at Ontario Place was quite a wonderful experience both for those who participated and those who went to enjoy all the events and saw Ontario Place for the first time. Approximately 20 bus loads of Haliburtons travelled to Toronto and the only adverse thing we have heard was that it was pretty chilly there by the waters of Lake Ontario. Those who organized the busses, the Choir and the Bands etc. must certainly be complimented and thanked for all their fine efforts.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey from Florida and Medina are back at their cottage on Kushog Lake near Ox Narrows. Although they sold their lovely cottage to the Nevilles they have been invited to continue to use it and since they do enjoy Haliburton this is a very nice arrangement.

Many people are busy putting in gardens this year to help combat the food shortage and high cost of produce. Mr. Brooks on the Hawk Lake Road has a wonderful selection of flowers and plants and hopes to build up a nice market-gardent business.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Oliver and family were weekend guests of Mrs. Mary Oliver over this past weekend.

The Esso station previously owned by Flo. Cummings has been sold to a couple from Burlington, Dale and Carole MacDonald. Mr. MacDonald is a mechanic and has previously operated successful gas station businesses in Burlington so this should be quite an asset to this area. Although they have not taken up residence yet, we do wish to welcome them.

The Stinsons took a few days off recently and visited Hamilton, Mississauga, Mount Forest, Bridgeport, Cambridge (Galt), Bramalea, Fergus and Guelph. In Mount Forest they attended St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church where the Rev. Lloyd Clifton is the minister in charge. The Clifton family owned and operated Tall Pines Resort on Highway 35 a few summers ago. Their son is graduating also as a Presbyterian Minister and their daughter Beth-Anne as a Deaconess in just another week or so. The Cliftons have a cottage on the South end of Hall's Lake and come to it whenever their busy lives allow them to.

At the regular meeting of Club 35 just held this evening (Monday) it was decided to not hold the Wine and Cheese Party as our Centennial Project. A Bake Sale and Rummage Sale is coming up in July, there will be bingo games every Wednesday evening during the summer, euchre parties each Monday, and a good number of the club ladies will be involved in the guild's big annual Tea and Bazaar on July 31 at the club, so it was felt there were just too many events to organize another one at this time. Perhaps later—as someone pointed out "Centennial Year" goes on until the end of the year!

Auxiliary members of Hyland Crest are busy making plans for the Country Store at the Gay Nineties Night on July 4. We understand the men will have the church wagon there for serving something hot and the ladies will be on hand with goodies in their store, all in their old-fashioned costumes too, we hope, which should prove to be quite an attraction. Hope you are keeping tab on all these important Centennial dates coming up—like the Centennial Ball on Friday June 14 at the Community Centre. Hall's Lake people are urged to attend as Stanhope Township is taking a part in this big special gala night to be held at the new arena in Minden.

NOTICE MUNICIPALITY OF DYSART ET AL DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL AND FAMILY SERVICES

Please note that Social and Family Services will be dealt with on Monday, Thursday and Friday from 9:00 A.M. to 11:00 A.M. or by appointment.

Emergency situations as in the past will be dealt with immediately as we are made aware of them.

Gems of Truth

EARLY CHURCH VERITIES

"And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul." Acts 4:32

True Christianity is not a religion. It is an organism made up of individuals who are trusting nothing else but Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord. A Lord is also a master of those that owe allegiance to Him. Is it not right here where the present weakness of professing Christianity lies? People do not attend worship services as they did a generation ago.

Many doors are closed that housed a flourishing congregation a few years ago. Why is this strange condition upon us? Is it not because of lost unity, conviction and zeal? Why should the world and the rising generation listen to us when we are not sure just what we believe?

There are some things that may be called finalities and true Christianity is made up of them. The truth believed by the early Church is still valid and sound in our day and age. They believed and taught that God is, God created, God revealed, God came, God died for the sins of men, God rose again for our justification, God is here in the person of the Holy Spirit and God is coming again.

As long as the Church was "of one heart and of one soul" on these eternal verities they prospered and progressed. In a few centuries humble men and women, thus armed, conquered empires and spread abroad. They displaced cults that had reigned a thousand years and changed customs that had existed since Adam's day. Such an army was not composed of supermen and superwomen, they were just united in thought and action. They had one heart and soul in their faith. If part of our modern ministry doubts the faith that the other part is striving to preach we will never win our generation for Christ as did these early Church people. What then do we lack? UNITY OF FAITH!

Jesus said "every city or house divided against itself shall not stand". Matthew 12:25

FOOD FOR THOUGHT: The Holy Spirit is still the powerhouse for the use of the Church.

Liberal Leader Nixon

Government accused of bad planning

Bad planning by the Ontario Conservative government under Premier William Davis was scored by Liberal leader Robert Nixon in an address delivered at Lindsay on Friday night.

Speaking to over 300 people attending the first annual leader's dinner and dance sponsored by the Victoria-Haliburton Liberal Association, Mr. Nixon covered a wide range of topics.

Turning his attention to the proposed development of Nappan Island, in the Trent River near Campbellford, Mr. Nixon said, "It is one of several recent examples of the Davis' government's planning incompetence."

"The government," he declared, "has granted draft approval to a subdivision plan for 250 cottages on the island, despite findings of a study conducted by its own Ministry of Natural Resources in 1972 that the number of cottages and boats in the area are now at their maximum limits."

The Liberal leader went on to say, "An earlier study by the Ministry of Energy and Resources Management, completed in 1970, also concludes that development of Nappan Island should be prohibited, because of the ecological fragility of nearby marsh areas. The Lower Trent River Conservation Authority agrees, citing the large numbers of waterfowl and wildlife near the island. The plan includes dredging operations in one channel of the river that is a fish migration route."

The development plan was first approved at Queen's Park in October 1972, although the local Township Council was not informed of this approval until several months later.

The Davis government's planning trademark, which the Toronto Star characterized this week as "acting first and finding out later", appears in the list of conditions attached to the draft plan. According to the conditions, the developer, Troon Holdings Ltd., is required to assess the environmental impact of the subdivision for five years after the 250 cottages are built. But there is no requirement for an environmental impact study before construction begins.

The Nappan Island planning fiasco is not unique. In mid-January, the government designated a 1300 acre site near London as provincial parkland, including a 50 acre residential subdivision that had received final provincial government approval only 22 days earlier. The error was uncovered by the local press in late January, but the government failed to initiate expropriation proceedings until this week - four months later. In the meantime, the developer has completed his road network, and lots were being offered for sale. As the London Free Press noted, "It seems an unnecessarily expensive way to acquire a park."
